3. Bernard Shaw Says the Clamor About It Is All Nonsense.

In a letter to the editor of the London Chronicle G. Bernard Shaw writes: I should have thought, now that we have an academy of letters, that it might rescue us from the gentlemen who occasionally write to you to explain how English should be written. Some time ago you let loose an unhappy creature to whom some competent person had incautiously pointed out a common blunder in the use of "and which." Not understanding the matter, he began accusing every writer in whose works he could discover "and which" of writing bad English. With your permission, I have extinguished him, and he has not since been heard of. There was some excuse for that poor wretch, because there unquestionably is a wrong way of using "and which," but for the "split infinitive" pest there is no excuse at all. There is nothing whatever to mislead him except his own nature. If any man were to object to a split infinitive such as "I greatly regret," or a split subjunctive such as "I should greatly prefer," or a split imperative such as "come slowly up," what newspaper would waste an inch of space on his foolish ignorance? And yet this split infinitive nonsense is taken quite seriously by editors who are sufficiently good writers to repeatedly use it themselves.

The infinitive is a mood in which the position of the adverb cannot possibly produce ambiguity; consequently the order of the words is not a matter of grammar, but of style, of which the ear is the only arbiter. The ear often demands the split infinitive and will have it in spite of all the silly people who do not know what style means. When these infinite insects are disposed of, you will no doubt be attacked in due course by the even more impudent impostors who, though they pronounce the word "color" so as to rhyme with "duller," and never hear it and never have heard it and never will hear it pronounced in any other way, from time to time pretend to be shocked when it is spelt without a "u." I trust you will always insist on these nuances definitely stating whether they pronounce it "color" or "neighbor" or "favor" or "behavior" so as to rhyme with "our" or "poor," as the case may be, or whether they are merely bogus etymologists—century belated Johnsons.

In either case you will be justified in recommending them to the care of their relatives and suppressing their babblings.

And When Discharged Wanted a Certificate For Ability and Honesty.

"Fancy a fellow picking your pocket and asking for a 'character,'" said a business man the other day. "That's been my experience. I hired a young man about a month ago to solicit orders for me on commission, with $20 a week guarantee. As he turned nothing in after a fortnight I began to suspect that he was working for another firm and doing nothing to earn the $20, so I told him that if no order materialized by the end of the week he must not expect to continue in my employ. 'I made inquiries which convinced me that he was doing what I suspected, but I got no legal proof that he was taking my money on false pretenses. So when the week was up I was forced to pay him a third $20, making $60 in all, which, I felt sure, he had done little or nothing to earn. Before doing so I told him of my suspicions, which was foolish, as I met only with denials which I couldn't disprove, although in answer to the questions of the cross examination I put him through he made statements which I knew to be lies. 'In spite of my accusations he seemed to think that my paying him the final $20 was acknowledgment that I believed his denials, and after receiving the money he asked if I would give a certificate as to his ability and honesty in case he found it necessary to call upon me for one. I answered that I would at least sign nothing against him, for after paying him no purpose money I could ill afford I didn't want to make an enemy of him, but advised him not to put me to the test.'—New York Sun.

The Trans-Mississippi and International Congress is composed of delegates from every State and Territory West of the Mississippi river. The idea of this exposition originated in that Congress at its session at Omaha in 1895, and the project has become a National enterprise and the National Commission has been organized and is in active service, there being one commissioner for each of the several departments of the Government. Most of the Trans-Mississippi States are well along in the way of gathering exhibits from their respective States and many of them have made liberal appropriations, while others are preparing exhibits through private enterprise.

Vice-President H. B. Maxson of Reno, has made arrangements whereby he can get Nevada exhibits, shipped from any point in the State along the line of the C. P. R. R., to Omaha and return, and he requests all persons who wish the interests of the State advertised, to co-operate with the Exposition County Commissioner of his county, whose name is shown above, and prepare some product of his county and send it to the nearest point on the C. P. R. R. from which place it will be sent to Omaha and exhibited, and returned to the same point at the close of the exposition, free of expense to the exhibitor. Full information should accompany everything sent for exhibition. Before sending anything to the line of the railroad a full description should be given the Exposition Commissioner of the county, who in turn will notify the Vice-President, who will notify him what action to take, otherwise there might be many applications. Apply to your County Representative for further information, and don't let this opportunity of advertising the resources of Nevada be lost.

A GREAT MISTAKE.

Congressman John F. Lacey of Iowa visited Obichamanga last week and upon his return to Washington said: "There are 45,000 troops at Obichamanga, of whom only 16,000 are armed and equipped for service. Men mount guard with sticks as weapons and the greatest complaint is made against the Ordnance Department. Though the arsenals are stored with guns the men are not supplied with the necessary arms. For two months there has been no target practice by those who have arms, because they have not been supplied with ammunition."

The JOURNAL published the above and stated, as further proof of the inefficiency of those whose duty it is to provide for the troops, that the Nevada Volunteer Cavalry were ordered to Cheyenne and upon arrival there Captain Lincoff had to purchase blankets for the men upon the credit of the State, as the Government had failed to do so. As Congress had made ample appropriation for the purchase of supplies for the volunteers, the fact that the Nevada troops were not provided for was evidently due to the carelessness or inefficiency of officials. The JOURNAL further stated that the Nevada troops were taken from Reno to Cheyenne and from Cheyenne back to Reno and that the cost of transportation would doubtless pay for a Colonel's uniform and several pairs of blankets for each man in the troop.

The Gazette, feeling that it had to say something, charged the JOURNAL with being unpatriotic for stating plain undeniable facts. It did not deny the statements made by Congressman Lacey, who is a gold Republican, and, of course, the Gazette would not knowingly or intentionally intimate that anybody who advocated the single gold standard could be unpatriotic. It could not refute the indisputable fact that the Nevada Cavalry were taken to Cheyenne and back, so that all it could say was to accuse the JOURNAL of lack of patriotism for publishing what a Republican Congressman said of the condition of the troops at Obichamanga and that the Nevada Cavalry had been taken to Cheyenne and back doubtless to benefit railroad companies and had not been supplied with blankets, probably because a favorite contractor did not have any on hand at the time.

The Gazette should remember that martial law does not prevail in the United States and that it is not unpatriotic for the press to direct attention to the inefficiency and favoritism of officials, civil or military. It evidently confounds patriotism with patriotism and imagines that because it sees nothing wrong in the administration of public affairs it is intensely patriotic.

THE SPANISH FLEET.

The Spanish (Cádiz) fleet has sailed up the Mediterranean and is now at Port Said at the entrance of the Suez Canal. It is given out that this fleet is on its way to Manila, though it has not asked for coal at Port Said and has not entered the canal. It is generally believed that this movement of the Spanish fleet is for deceptive purposes only. It cannot hope to contend successfully with Admiral Dewey's fleet at Manila which has been reinforced with the cruiser Charleston and the monitors Monterey and Monadnock, from San Francisco. It may be a ruse on the part of the Spaniards to draw a part of Sampson's and Schley's fleets from Cuba and give Cervera opportunity to get a part of his fleet out of Santiago harbor.

But whatever the purpose of the Spaniards may have been in sending the Cádiz fleet, which is the only fleet now owned by Spain, outside of Santiago de Cuba harbor, the United States purposes taking advantage of its departure from the coast of Spain. It is stated that several war vessels will be dispatched to bombard the coast cities of Spain and thus bring the war to a speedy close.

Intelligent Spaniards fully understand the hopelessness of their cause. They know that protracting the war is doing them no good, but they are afraid if they quit it will cause a revolution at home. The appearance of an American fleet off Cádiz might bring all the rival factions to their senses and get them to realize the folly of prolonging the war. In two weeks or less the Oregon can be sending peace persuaders in the shape of ten-inch shells right in among the haughty Pons and thus convince them that Uncle Sam cannot only take Cuba, but Spain also if he makes up his mind to do so.

It is stated that General Miles will probably go to Santiago within a week. Old newspapers for sale at JOURNAL office.

ANOTHER SUPREME COURT DECISION.

The Supreme Court yesterday filed an opinion in the case of Brooks against the Nevada Nickel Syndicate, Limited. The judgment of the lower Court was reversed for the reason that the service of summons upon the Secretary of State was made without any showing in the record, that the corporation had not appointed and did not keep an agent within the State upon whom service of process could be made as required by the Statute of 1889. The opinion is by Massey and concurred by Balknap and Bonfield.

CONDENSED WAR NEWS.

The U. S. Embassy at London has reports from several sources that Spain has purchased the powerful Chilean armored cruiser O'Higgins, last board of at the Cape Verde Islands where a transport with Spanish soldiers on board is said to have gone to take her over, but the report is denied at Washington.

Orders have been issued for the immediate sailing of another large expedition 9,000 strong to reinforce General Shafter. The start will be made immediately.

The Navy Department yesterday posted the following bulletin: "Admiral Sampson says the Yale arrived yesterday and discharged her troops."

Captain Sigbee reports that Wednesday afternoon while off San Juan he was attacked by a Spanish unprotected cruiser and torpedo boat destroyer Terror. The Terror made a dash which was awaited by the St. Paul.

"The St. Paul hit the Terror three times, killing one officer and two men and wounding several others. The Terror dropped back with difficulty and had to be towed into the harbor where she is now being repaired."

The President has issued a proclamation extending the blockade to the southern coast of Cuba and including the port of San Juan in Porto Rico.

Dispatches from Kingston say: Lieutenant Blue has returned after an other investigating trip ashore. He says Cervera's ships are all in the harbor. They are at anchor with no signs of activity. Sampson warned his fleet to take great care in shooting at the hills east of Morro Castle as the American army had advanced and our troops might be the targets.

Sampson issued a bulletin saying a considerable part of the damage done our troops on Friday was by seven milemeter machine guns, manned by seamen. This proves the report that Admiral Cervera's crews are employed on shore.

Juragua has been selected as headquarters and General Shafter held a consultation there today with Garcia and Castillo.

General Joe Wheeler is in command of the advance guard.

It is stated that the O'Higgins was recently offered to the United States for $8,000,000, but the Government declined to pay what it considered twice her value.

In defeating the torpedo boat destroyer Terror last week Captain Sigbee has rendered a signal service to our navy by showing that the destroying power of these boats has been greatly overestimated.

To Prevent Iron Rust.

Among the new and useful metallurgical processes of note the San Francisco Scientific Press speaks of one by which iron may be effectively protected from rust. In this a solution of ferrocyanide is mixed with a flaxseed varnish, to which has been added a small quantity of turpentine or benzol. The evaporation of the alcohol leaves the flaxseed varnish, which forms a coat and protects the cyanide of iron, the same being deposited upon the metal by the use of the ferrocyanide, the only preparation required by iron for such treatment being the removal of any rust that may have formed on it not admitting of the action of such a solution. Another process of interest to workers in metallurgy is that of substituting the use of manganese for German silver, the different metals and their proportions being as follows: Copper, 87.25 per cent; manganese, 18.50 per cent; zinc, 13 per cent; aluminium, 1.35 per cent, the color of this metal closely resembling German silver, being also fully as strong as the best quality of the latter and possessing superior adaptation for casting.

He'd Better Trade Her Off.

There is a certain Yorkshire man who has won considerable fame and some wealth as an expert handler of horses. He is also the possessor of a pleasant home, a charming wife and a bright 8-year-old boy.

The latter is the delight of his father's heart, and the little fellow not only knows lots of horse talk, but takes a keen delight in a mild attempt at holding the reins over a fast gee.

The wee horseman has picked up the habit of calling his parents by their first names, and the way in which he utters them is decidedly amusing.

One day not long ago his father came home in a hurry and found the luncheon wasn't ready.

"What do you think of that, my small man?" he cried laughingly as he tossed the 8-year-old in the air. "Here's papa come home in a terrible hurry and no luncheon ready. What ought we to do with such a terrible mamma?"

The little fellow's eyes sparkled. "Trade her off, Harry, trade her off!" he shouted.—Pearson's Weekly.

It is stated that General Miles will probably go to Santiago within a week. Old newspapers for sale at JOURNAL office.

ELECTION OF TEACHERS.

Some Reduction in Teachers and Salaries

The Board of School Trustees met yesterday for the election of teachers for the ensuing year. Careful estimates showed that under the conditions prevailing for the past year there would be a deficiency of from $1800 to $1800 for next year. The Board were therefore under the necessity of cutting down the teaching force somewhat and of slightly reducing salaries. The principal part of the deficiency that confronted the Board being due to a decrease of 33 pupils on the new census roll, it was decided to cut the regular teaching force from fourteen teachers to thirteen. As the school had had the benefit of the services of a special teacher in writing and drawing for two and a half years, it was decided that the regular teachers should now be able to do that work to advantage, thus relieving the district to the extent of $500 a year. The salary of the music teacher was placed at $70 per month. A four per cent reduction was then made on all salaries except that of the Kindergarten teacher.

The following were elected as the teaching force for the ensuing school year: Principal, (elected in May), John Edwards Bray; High School teachers: Mrs. M. S. Doten, Miss A. H. Schadler; Grammar teachers: Mr. E. E. Walte, Mrs. L. C. Booth, Miss H. N. Linehan, Miss F. J. Northup; Primary teachers: Misses H. E. Joy, E. L. Loder, F. E. Frey, E. Rhodes, M. Henry, L. Unruh and Mrs. J. K. Logar; Music teacher, Mrs. A. L. Layton; Kindergarten, Miss A. Nichols.

The Board find that the schools are in good condition and regret having had to reduce the force of teachers. An effort was made so to adjust matters as to leave the school in the best condition possible for the coming year, the necessary reductions being taken into consideration.

Dewey's Worthy Son.

Admiral Dewey has a son in New York City occupying a clerical position on a salary of $65 a month. He is a young man of 23 and graduated from Princeton University in the class of 1896. Shortly after the battle at Manila Mr. Dewey, Jr., was visited by the editor of a yellow journal and offered a position as reporter, with a salary of $5,000 a year. He enquired what would be expected of him and was informed that he was needed to write articles on the war and kindred subjects. He might be sent to the front; he might be detailed to go on a fleet; he would have to accept any assignment that was given him, but of course all his expenses would be paid. The young man explained that he had had no experience and no knowledge of the newspaper business; that he had never been inside a printing office, nor had he ever written an article for publication in his life. Therefore he did not see how his services would be worth $5,000 a year. It was explained to the innocent youth that experience, knowledge and literary talent were entirely superfluous. All he would have to do was to sign the name of George Dewey, Jr., to articles that other people would write for him and draw his salary. Mr. Dewey indignantly replied that he was not that kind of a man and declined the offer.

For the Engineering Corps.

Lieutenant W. G. Caffrey has received instructions to enlist fifteen men for the Second volunteer Engineering Corps. Machinists, steam engineers, blacksmiths, carpenters, plumbers, telegraphers, topographers, draughtsmen, photographers, railroad men and those skilled in the use of explosives are eligible to enlistment. The pay is divided as follows:

Sergeants, $10.80 per month; corporals, $24; 1st class privates, $20.40; 2nd class privates $15.60; Married men will be enlisted subject to approval of the regimental Commander. Volunteers will have to pay one-half regular fare from Reno to Salt Lake, but an effort will be made to have the same refunded. Lieutenant Bennett now at Carson will probably muster the men in.

The following was received later: To Lieut. Caffrey—If 10 or 15 good men desire to enlist from Reno, think I can come out and enlist them and furnish transportation about July 5.

F. J. MILLS

Words of Praise.

The Boston Herald in speaking of the graduates of the New England Conservatory of Music has this to say of Alice May Stanaway: "She has been studying at the Conservatory two years, is one of the best contralto singers who ever entered the institution. She was graduated from the Reno, Nev., High School in the Class of 1891, and was later graduated from the Nevada State University with the degree of A. B. Since coming to Boston for study she has sung in a Unitarian Church Choir in Brookline. Miss Stanaway is not through studying, for she intends to perfect herself in oratorio and concert work. She receives a diploma from the Conservatory as a soloist, and also as a teacher." A very good picture of Miss Stanaway heads the notice.

GUGGENHEIM SENTENCED.

Pleads Guilty and Sentenced to Five Years in the Penitentiary.

The Grand Jury this afternoon reported a true bill against L. Guggenheim on three charges of embezzlement. By previous arrangement the defendant agreed to plead guilty to one of the indictments, that of embezzling $318.67 from Virginia Lodge No. 3 I. O. O. F. Major Haffaker, who represented Guggenheim, made a plea on his behalf and District Attorney Noel also urged leniency, stating that the action of Mr. Guggenheim, in pleading guilty, had saved the county a great deal of money.

Judge Mack then addressed the defendant, reviewed the different reasons for and against leniency and sentenced Guggenheim to five years in the penitentiary. The defendant was greatly moved, and at different times during the remarks of Attorney Noel and Judge Mack was affected to tears. He was visibly worn by his confinement, and when he appeared in court his eyes were red as if from weeping. From the visible traces of what he has suffered during his short confinement it is not likely that he will ever breathe free air again, although his time in prison may be reduced to three years and nine months by good behavior. He will leave for Carson to-morrow.

Action against him on the other two indictments was dropped.—Report.

There are Many of Them.

This is the way that "Q. K." in the Sacramento Bee dishes up a class of men who are numerous in every community: "We may be wrong—we do not claim to be in touch with the Lord—we are not so blasphemous as to believe that the inner workings of marvelous plans have been revealed to us—we do not know what may be the thoughts of Infinity upon that subject—but we do think that the highest crime in the sight of heaven should be hypocrisy. We have admiration for a vigorous, sturdy specimen of masculinity—great in his few vices, may be, but magnificent in his friendship, grand in his manhood, ever in the sunlight, a good friend to his friends, and a square fighter to his enemies—such a man is an admiration and a bean ideal. His sins become white in the waters of his sincerity, and he stands a man among men, a lion in the great path of nature's daily walks. But a man who is vacillating—a man who courts the shadows—a man who greets friend and foe alike—a man who gives a smile to his benefactor in the sunshine, and turns to him the lips of Judas as the darkness gathers around—a man who sneers at religion with the Publicans and beats his breast with the Pharisees—such a man is as repugnant as a venomous snake. And yet it is too often just that kind of men who succeed in this world, men upon whose carcasses the scalpel would not indicate the trace of a gizzard, nor reveal the prior existence of a drop of blood. Still it is doubtful if in their heart of hearts they really think they have succeeded. They must know that they have voluntarily conferred upon all decent men the right to despise them."

Discovered by Woman.

Another great discovery has been made, and that too, by a lady in this country. "Discoase fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly, and could not sleep. She finally discovered a way to recovery, by purchasing of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and was so much relieved on taking first dose, that she slept all night; and two bottles, has absolutely cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz. Thus writes E. C. Hamrick & Co. of Shelby N. C. Trial-bottles free S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store Regular size 50c and $1.00 Every bottle guaranteed.

A CARD.

Superintendent Beebe and Wife of the Orphan's Home Court Investigation. EDITOR RENO JOURNAL: I most heartily agree with you in your opinion that the Ormsby County Grand Jury ought to investigate matters at the State Orphan's Home. We would also be greatly pleased to have the Editor of the Reno Journal or the editor of any other paper in Nevada call upon us for the same purpose. We do not wish to set the day nor the hour for such visit, but will at any time show any of the gentleman around the Home premises and allow any of the inmates of the Home whether inmates or employees to be interviewed privately if desired. As to the article copied from the Carson Appeal, the latter half of the first sentence is a mistake. The affidavits mentioned did not emanate "from both factions in the controversy." The Editor of the Appeal has been offered no affidavits or other matter connected with the affair by any one of the defendants in the case.

Respectfully,

A. M. BEEBE.

Takes His Jag In Transit.

"The other day I was coming east on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad," said Mr. H. T. Towns of New York. "In the parlor car in which I traveled were a couple of hilarious New Yorkers, who were spending their money for champagne, or at least one of them was, with a liberality that was high akin to recklessness. The number of quart bottles that they consumed was startling, and every time the colored attendant brought in a fresh bottle he was presented with a $1 note. Whenever the contents of one were pretty nearly gone the elder of the boozehounds shouted out to the waiter, 'Who told you to stop bringing in wine?'"

"But along toward evening the supply ran out, much to the disgust of the pair, and they had to be content with highballs, cocktails and other plebeian drinks. These were sufficient, however, to keep up their spirits, and later in the night I could hear them yelling for another round."

"The next day the conductor of the train told me that this couple had been riding up and down the road for nearly a week and that they hadn't drawn a sober breath in all that while. It seemed that it was the odd way taken by the senior member to indulge in a spree. He took the younger man along merely for company and footed all the bills. About once a year the notion took him to go off on a tear, and not wishing to indulge in inebriation at home, he couldn't think of as good a scheme as riding continuously on a trunk line, where there would be only strangers to wonder at his dissipated behavior. The idea of picking a Pullman as the theater of a protracted jag struck him as decidedly original."—Washington Post.
